

The Success of 2022 BC Chinese Speech Competition

for School Students

Confucius Institute in Coquitlam organized successfully 2022 BC Chinese Speech Contest for K-12 students in order to promote multicultural exchange and to provide the Chinese language learning and practice platform so the students could display their learning achievements and increase their interest in learning Chinese. This contest was open to all BC K-12 students who were Canadian citizens or Canadian permanent residents. There were two groups for the contest, the heritage group and the non-heritage group. The heritage group was defined as one or both of the parents speaking Chinese as their first language. Otherwise, students would be placed in the non-heritage group. All the participants were required to submit their speech video on-line before the end of June, 2022.

The topic ‘I Have Grown Up’ was the theme of the contest. Through the speech, the students expressed their highlights of their daily life, their grown-up experiences as well as their good and lovely stories of their life and their family. The organizer invited experienced Chinese teachers and experts to be the judges. The judging criteria focused on the content, pronunciation, intonation, vocabularies and sentences as well as the speech expressions. As a result, 4 students won the first prize, 4 students won the second prize and 4 students won the third prize. There were 19 students who won the special prizes. All the winners will receive the awards and prizes and participation certificates will be presented to all the contest participants.
