

Small Group Online Mandarin

Due to the pandemic, Mandarin classes in the Confucius Institute have been changed to online courses for the past year. In response to some parents and students' recent inquiries, we are going to offer a new online format to meet the needs. The new course format will be limited to a maximum of 4 students and the class time and length can be determined by students and families.

Minimum length of each online session will be one hour; max will be 2 hours, which is suitable for the needs of younger students. Parents and students can choose to either have a private class (1 on 1) or find friends of similar skill level to take the course with them (up to 3 others).

The following is the arrangement of the course:

1. Class time: Self-determined. It can be one hour each session, how many sessions per week is up to the parents. All parents and students in the group should work together to coordinate the time.

2. Each semester is 16 weeks, and the start date is the same as the ordinary class (you can choose any time except the original Mandarin classes on Tuesday afternoon, Friday evening, and Saturday). Please pay the tuition fee before the beginning of the semester. Using one hour a week as an example, the following is the tuition fee for one semester:

Group with 1 student: $480 /person

Group with 2 students: $360/person

Group with 3 students: $290 /person

Group with 4 students: $240/person

Materials will cost more.

3. If you need to change the class time due to special occasions, please notify us 24 hours in advance so that we can coordinate with other students in the group and the teacher to change the class time. Time changes will not be accepted within 24 hours.

4. Refunds and cancellation policy:

As the class is in small groups and students are free to choose classmates, in order to protect the interests of the entire group of students, no group change will be accepted after the course starts, and no refund application will be allowed.

If a student in the group requests a refund, they must submit a written application before the start of the course. If the group class is canceled, the refund of all students in the group will deduct $30 of the paid fee as an administrative fee.

Please contact us at CIcoquitlam@gmail.com for more information